Lily Sassoon, Founder and Managing Director

EDUCATIONAL BACKGROUND AND EXPERIENCE:

Lily Sassoon graduated with a Master of Science degree from the department of Bio-behavioral Sciences of Columbia University. She is board certified in Speech and Language Pathology by American Speech and Hearing Association (ASHA) and a member of Voice Disorders Division of ASHA . Mrs. Sassoon has been treating voice disorders in her private practice and worked with adults and children. She also holds a Master in Arts degree in French Language and Literature from the State University of Linguistics, Russia. Mrs. Sassoon studied opera production and management at Rose Bruford College, UK. Doctorate level coursework in Communication Disorders was completed at CUNY, New York city.

Mrs. Sassoon attended over 1000 opera performances around the world; studied opera history (and Western Music history), music theory and piano performance in Russia.

Her life long passion and fascination has been always reserved for Opera: as an art form and, of course, for operatic voices.
